Wild and remote Lake Natron lies in the northeast of Tanzania in between the Ngorongoro Highlands and Serengeti plains. Here it is the landscape rather than the animals that is the attraction – the area around the lake inhabited by Maasai is dry, desolate and hauntingly beautiful.

Situated at the base of Africa's only active volcano Oldonyo Lengai (Mountain of God), Lake Natron is one of the most alkaline lakes in the world. The lake is home to millions of tiny crustaceans, attracting literally thousands of lesser flamingo's and it is therefore one of the most important flamingo breeding grounds on earth.

Unique in its setting, Lake Natron Tented Camp is set back in a grove of trees adjacent to the shores of the lake. Basic but clean safari tents offer showers, comfortable beds and a private veranda. A fully stocked bar and candle lit restaurant ensure you have a cold drink and delicious food at the end of an arduous climb or long days walking.

After checking into your lodge and a short break, go for a short walk along the lake shore looking out for flamingos. Lake Natron is the most important and regular breeding site for lesser flamingos in East Africa hosting up to 2 million of them during the breeding season.

DAY 6: FULL-DAY LAKE NATRON

After breakfast, you go for a walk to the village or to the waterfalls. You can take a quick dip and enjoy the fresh water while swimming. It is the perfect way to cool down after the walk. The waterfall has wild palms growing above the gorge and if you go under the waterfall itself you find a semi tunnel that leads to the back where you can easily have a swim. You spend the whole day here with the guide who will show and provide all information about this unique place. You can also walk back for a late lunch and a leisure afternoon at the camp.

Lake Natron offers several activities for those who want to do more than stretch their legs. It is possible to organize a volcano hike on the Oldonyo Lengai, where you can experience a hike on an active volcano – and maybe even spot some lava! This hike is not for the faint hearted. Starting at 11pm, the hike will take about 12 hours throughout the night. But definitely worth your while.

In addition, as a starting point, Lake Natron offers multiple hikes. You can choose to do a camping trek from Lake Natron to the rim of the Ngorongoro Crater, or a longer waterfall hike for around 6 hours. Together with our local guides, we can create a unique program according to your preferences. Much is possible!

At Ikoma, we also offer a walking safari. This is unique at Ikoma as the camp is set right outside the parks official boundaries, setting it apart from camps within the national park who cannot offer a walking safari. In addition, it is possible to do a night game drive and spot the nocturnal animals you cannot see during the day.

DAY 8: FULL-DAY GAME DRIVE IN SERENGETI NATIONAL PARK

This day go on a full day of game drive in the Serengeti, one of Africa's best national parks. The Serengeti has a lot to offer, including superb game drives, stunning sunsets, and a large number of animals that may be seen in a single day. This ofcourse the migration of the wildebeest. In June and July the wildebeest will go from the central part to the Northern part of Serengeti, which is not so far from Ikoma Tented Camp. The wildebeest are usually in the central Serengeti and getting ready for the toughest part of their odyssey. The herds may have split up, with some already crossing the Grumeti River.
